Lost Wages.
If a CGMA client loses their job or experiences reduced hours due to closures or shutdowns related to the virus, zero-interest loans of up $12,000 (two months normal pay) are available. Lost wages must be substantiated by a paycheck stub or other verification of income. Receipt of a check from the federal government because of the legislation does not impact anyone’s entitlement to any of CGMA’s programs. Members who receive unemployment checks may receive a loan up to the amount of one month’s worth of the difference between their wages and their unemployment benefit. They still need to provide documentation on the lost wages.

Members who have been placed into in a medically directed quarantine are authorized loans of up to $6,000. Childcare and Education Assistance

Child Care/Elder Care Costs
As schools remained closed and parents go back to work, zero-interest loans of up to $6,000 (two months) of childcare costs are available. Loans of up to $3,000 are available for families caring for a parent or grandparent at home because the facility they resided at closed temporarily due to the virus.

School Meals
For families who normally receive free school meals for their children (usually breakfast and lunch), a $1,000 loan per month is available to help offset the new cost of feeding them at home as school remain closed. No documentation needed. NOTE: The safety of our client families is very important to us. Some school districts are still providing those meals even though the schools are closed. If a member chooses not to use that service because of the lack of social distancing inherit in the situation, they may apply for this loan in lieu of participating in the meal program offered by the school district.

The Supplemental Education Grant (SEG-C) can be used for basic school supplies, digital learning aids, study books and printer ink, but does not include aid to purchase electronics such as, computers, tablets, printers, etc. The receipts must be specific as to what was purchased and must be dated between 1 February 2020 and 1 June 2020.
